

Make Your Own Puffy Paint

Materials:

- 3 cups of shaving cream (foam not gel)
- 1 cup flour
- 1 cup white glue, such as Elmer's
- Food coloring or paint
- Ziploc-style sandwich bags
- Sturdy paper poster board, tag board, cardboard, watercolor paper, or paper plates

Instructions:

1. Measure out all of your ingredients, except for any coloring, into a large mixing bowl.
2. Mix the shaving cream, flour, and glue together without over mixing. (Remember you want to keep the air bubbles in the shaving cream.)
3. Divide the white fluffy paint mixture between three to four small bowls and add a few squirts of food coloring or paint to each bowl, stirring in, but again being careful not to over mix.
4. Spoon the puffy paint into sandwich bags. Seal each bag (add duct tape as well to help keep it closed if your kids are extra vigorous squeezers), then cut a small corner off.
Note: If you want to simplify this step you can use squeeze bottles to make it easier.
5. Squeeze the foam paint through the small hole onto your paper or board, making puffy lines, dots, and designs as desired. Enjoy!
